LIBRETTIST SLAIN AND THEN ROBBED IN MOCK'S HOTEL

Louis De Lange Killed with Razor and Police Seek Young Man Who Was Last Seen in His Rooms.

That Louis De Lange, playwright, who was found with his throat cut in his rooms at Mock's Hotel on Forty-second street was murdered and robbed was fairly well established by facts that came to light this afternoon.

The mysterious young man who was last seen in his company, and for whom the police are looking, is now known to have gone twice with De Lange to his room. On his last visit, and just before he ran out of the house, at about 4 o'clock this morning, De Lange was heard to scream in terror: "Don't do that. My God! Don't do that."

Nothing was heard from the apartment and five hours later the dead body was found. On the floor eight feet away lay the razor.

Gold Watch Missing.

De Lange's vest, with his gold watch and chain, valued at $100, is missing. His money was gone. On a hasty examination of the room the detectives at first felt assured that nothing had been stolen. This caused them to declare at first it was a case of suicide.

To add to this new and more serious view of the strange affair comes the statement of Coroner Schrady, who said, after an examination of the body:

"I would not care to go on record as saying it is not a case of murder. The throat, to be sure, is not cut clean across from ear to ear as a cut is usually made by a murderer. Still, the cut is not high up and close to the chin as it is nearly always in cases of suicide. By the nature of the death wound it might have been made either by a murderer or by Mr. De Lange."

The body was found by Alexander Clark De Lange, brother of the dead man, and a comedian whose stage name is Alexander Clark. De Lange had apartments on the third floor rear of the hotel. On the floor above lives his brother and Mrs. Clark. Mrs. Clark De Lange's story is the most important so far given by the police.

She said that some time about 4 o'clock this morning she heard voices in her brother-in-law's room. At first she could not understand what was said, then:

KILLED BY SHOCK AT GIRL'S SCREAM

Jacobs, Wakened from Sleep Jumped up and Fell Dying of Heart Disease.

Joseph A. Jacobs, said to be an uncle of Jesse Lewisohn, died early today in a furnished-room house at No. 141 West Forty-third street. The death became known late this afternoon when a young man came out of the place and reported to Policeman Thomas Moore, on post, that there was a dead man in the house. Moore questioned Mrs. Mary Decker, who has the house, and she said the man was Jacobs. He was fifty-five years old and had lived at No. 418 West Forty-second street. His two brothers, Richard and Arthur, she said, are wealthy brokers in Wall street.

Deputy Coroner Weston after an autopsy gave heart failure as the cause of death.

According to Mrs. Decker, Mr. Jacobs had known him for ten years. He came to the house last night to see two show girls, Mary Moreland and Kate Wood, who she said were members of "The Brooklyn." They were not in, and Jacobs said he would wait in their room. About 2 o'clock Mrs. Decker was awakened by the two girls. They said they had come in and found Jacobs asleep. Not recognizing him, they had screamed and Jacobs sprang up and then fell back, gasping his heart, and died in a few minutes.

MILLIONAIRE'S SON ELOPES FROM SCHOOL

"Romantic but Foolish" Says Young Alexandre's Mother.

(Special to The Evening World.)
STAMFORD, Conn., March 13.—The marriage of Jerome Alexandre and Miss Violet Adelaide Oakley was an event, according to Mrs. Paul Bonner, young Alexandre's mother.

The bride was employed as a stenographer by Mr. Bonner.

"It is true Jerome is married," said Mrs. Bonner. "The only thing that I regret about it is the way in which it was done. It was an elopement. I cannot understand why Jerome should do such a thing. There was no occasion for it. He is a foolish, impulsive boy, and I suppose he thought it would be more romantic."

By the terms of the will Mrs. Tousey is entitled to a life interest in the estate. If the will is set aside Mrs. Tousey and Berolzheimer will be entitled to immediate possession of the estate, outside of the Von Hoffman apartment house, at No. 49 West Twenty-sixth street, which Mrs. Todd assigned by deed before her death to Mrs. Tousey.

Lockwood is represented by Mark Alter and Jones Cochrane.

The case of Mrs. Todd was most sensational, and many features of it have never been cleared up. She was over seventy years old, the possessor of a fortune valued at more than $300,000. Among her possessions was the Von Hoffman apartment house, at No. 49 West Twenty-sixth street. For some years Ingersoll Lockwood had been her legal adviser and had rooms at the Von Hoffman.

CHESBRO READY TO GO IN BOX TO-MORROW

Wilhelm, Once with Boston, Likely to Oppose Him for Birmingham.

(Special to The Evening World.)

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., March 13.—Both the New York and Birmingham clubs were on the field today getting in trim for to-morrow's game. This afternoon the strenuous proceedings continued.

Erwin Wilhelm, who pitched for Boston last season, is with Birmingham this year. It has been arranged for him to be pitted against Chesbro. Local fans are anxious to see a National League face an American League and are besieging Griffith with requests to put his star against Wilhelm. Conroy is the only regular man now missing, but he will arrive.

It looks as if Yeager will have a cinch on third unless Laporte shows very strong at second. If the new-comer proves good enough he will go to second, Wilhelm will play third and Yeager will again be used as utility man.

The Townsend resolution also corrects other defects in the Tillman-Gillespie resolution pointed out by the President.

LITTLE FIGHTERS READY FOR GREAT BATTLE IN RING

Each of the Rival Pugilists Seems Confident of Victory and Experts Predict a Stirring Contest When They Meet To-Morrow Night.

Tickets to the fight of Terry McGovern and Battling Nelson before the National A. C. at Philadelphia will be worth as much as Great Auk's eggs before this time to-morrow night, if the demand for them at fancy prices goes on climbing as it has climbed to-day. Here in New York none of the precious pasteboards are to be had for love, money or diamond solitaires. At Philadelphia according to telegrams to "The Evening World," ten dollar tickets are scarce at $25 each, with $30 bid in some instances.

As early as yesterday tickets in the hands of the speculators began selling at an advance of 100 per cent. over the original cost, and even at that there were dozens of men ready and willing to gobble them up and beg for more.

This is one of the things which helps to show the interest that sporting men are taking in the meeting of the two cockiest cockspawners in the lightweight class. Another is found in the fact that parties will come from all over the East, from Boston, from Baltimore and Washington, from as far away even as Cincinnati and Louisville to witness the bout.

Every New York man who is well known at ringsides and a lot who aren't will go down to the city of Sleepyville on the Schuylkill to-morrow. The Metropole will be the loneliest spot on Manhattan Island by dark. Zest is lent to anticipations of a hair-raising, hair-curling fight by the reports from the training shops of both the little men. Both of them are polished to the smoothness of soapstone and the hardness of granite. No brace of toy gladiators were ever in better trim on the eve of a fight. Terry, so reports say, looks like a pocket edition of a human dynamo, with the muscles for insulation coils, while the Dane promises to produce a short-arm jab that will rival a piston rod for vim and verve.

NELSON AT WEIGHT AND IN FINE FORM.

(Special to The Evening World.)
ESSINGTON, Pa., March 13.—Nelson will not leave his training-quarters here to-morrow until just before the time for him to report at the ringside. His hard work of training is already over, for he has made the required weight and is a safe bit below it.

To-morrow he will do a lot of light exercising to keep his muscles in the proper fettle for the strain to which they will be put when he meets McGovern in the National A. C. arena.

POLICE ARREST MAN PROSECUTORS LET GO.

Assistant District-Attorneys Garvan and Murphy stated that there was no reason why "Lucky Joe" should have been arrested, as they interviewed him for an hour to-day and let him go.
